

2012 JOHN J. WRIGHT MUSEUM CULTURAL CLUB

For book, writing and movie lovers, the Museum Cultural Club was developed in response to the changing role of literature and the arts in today's society. In addition to discussions of books and movies, the club encourages creative writing and will hold workshops to assist people with those skills.

1. The club is free and open to anyone who enjoys the arts.
2. The club meets at 12 noon on the dates listed below.
3. Club members will choose a book/movie or other cultural event to discuss based on a theme (listed below).
4. Light refreshments will be served.
5. Club members are encouraged to suggest books to be included in the Museum Gift Store or cultural groups throughout the region that could perform in support of the museum.

The February meeting will occur in the middle of the month because the first Saturday is the opening of our new exhibit, Identity, and there is usually a tremendous snow storm in the second week of February. We will play this one by ear.

Last meeting of the year for the Museum Cultural Club is November. The first Saturday in December (the 3rd) is the county-wide holiday parade and program. We encourage everyone to participate in that community event.
